Create a Vision for Your Future

UVSC Office Professionals Conference April 14

Unleash the power within you. Discover who you are. Create a successful career.

UVSC's Conferences & Workshops is helping office professionals manage their employment destiny by "Creating A Successful Vision" at the 14th Annual UVSC Office Professionals Conference on April 14, 2006 from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the UVSC Orem campus in the Sorensen Student Center.

Keynote speaker Kevin Miller, president of Visionbound International and motivational trainer, will help participants unlock the power of personal leadership.

"I give people the ability to find the life they've always wanted. You can envision your life, create a personal vision statement and then translate that statement into actions that lead to personal success," Miller said.

Conference participants can set career and personal goals by attending break-out sessions on communication, motivation, stress management, dealing with difficult people, office design, computer programs, and many more.
